Dining

Although most of the meals are included in this holiday, there will be the occasion to eat out at other times when you will have the opportunity to choose for yourselves some of the local cuisine.

The standard of food in Greece is excellent and offers a remarkable variety of freshly prepared and very tasty dishes, many of which use locally grown products and locally produced olive oil.

In Greece, and particularly in Crete, the locals nearly always eat 'Mezedes' style. This generally means ordering several dishes, starters and/or main plates, whatever takes your fancy, to put in the middle of the table for all to share. It's a very sociable way to eat and a great way of tasting lots of different dishes! Don't be shy in the amount you order, or if you only find yourselves ordering starters – any combination is acceptable.

When ordering fish in Crete you will find the price on the menu relates to a cost per kilo. Don't be put off by this. You are expected to go into the kitchen, choose your fish and then it will be weighed in front of you so you know what you will pay.

Nearly all tavernas sell their own 'open' wine, known as village wine. It is something of an acquired taste, but it goes well with the local food. The Greeks are very proud of their wine and nearly all Cretans make their own. The white is usually always very drinkable, but the red varies quite a lot. If you are unsure you can always ask if you can try the wine before you agree to it. Prices of local 'village' wine are usually between 3 and 5 euros per half litre.

Local drinks are ouzo, raki, metaxa and, of course, Greek wine. Raki is the local firewater! This is distilled from the residue of the grapes after making wine. You will probably find you come across this whether you want to or not, as it is very often served, complimentary, at the end of a meal.

Meals included in the holiday

Breakfast daily, three lunches at local tavernas and three dinners at the Cellar Taverna situated on Kissamos sea front promenade, approximately a seven-minute walk from your hotel.

Taking food into EU countries

You are not able to take meat, milk or any products containing them into EU countries.

Destination

Crete

Crete is a fascinating destination for a cultural and historic tour with its wealth of sights reflecting its ancient Minoan culture that dates back some 3,000 years, but it is also an island with a fantastic nature, some wonderful and diverse scenery and an authentic traditional culture, which very much encompasses the local cuisine, and which is the focus of this tour. The Cretan diet is reputed to be one of the healthiest in Europe with its abundance of locally grown high quality olive oil, pulses, fresh fruit, vegetables, wild greens (horta), and rich red tomatoes and, of course, a glass of wine produced from local vineyards!

Kissamos

This tour is based at Kissamos, a small seaside town whose focus is on local business and agriculture with just a small influence of tourism. The town is situated along a beautiful bay framed by the twin peninsulas of Gramvousa and Rodopos and is ideally situated for exploring the far west and little developed corner of this beautiful island.

Your host

This tour is led by Stelios Milonakis, a Cretan who was born in the Kissamos region. Each day begins leisurely departing the hotel between 9 and 10 am and travelling by minibus to the day's destination. During the visits there will always be plenty of time to stop and admire the views, to take a photo or two and to enjoy refreshments along the way. The late afternoons will be free with time to relax, swim or to explore further.

Stelios will do his best to make you feel at home during your stay. He wants you to get the most from your holiday and to learn more about the traditions and local way of life of the fiercely proud people of this lovely island.

A little information on the places visited:

The Cellar Taverna - Cooking

Owned by Stelios, The Cellar taverna provides the setting both to learn about Cretan food and to prepare some popular local dishes. The food you prepare will be served during lunch and dinner on that day at the Cellar Taverna, where you will also be dining on some evenings!

Village life

Today you have the privilege to visit the home of Stelios' parents in a local village near to Kissamos, where you will learn about traditional Cretan life and how village life makes it still possible today to be virtually self-sufficient growing most of your own produce and keeping some livestock. There will be wine-tasting from Stelios own barrels and a chance to see some of the families own produce, such as sweet, sticky and delicious Greek spoon sweets, walnuts picked from local trees, the families store of olive oil and raki, local cheese, honey, lemonade and, if it was a wet winter, perhaps some locally gathered snails!

Cheese, Olive Oil and Sweet producers

There will be visits to three local producers to understand more about the production of these items, which all play a big part in Cretan life, its culture and economy today. Lunch will be at a taverna in the picturesque village of Deliana.

Chania

Set against a spectacular backdrop of majestic mountains and aquamarine seas, Chania is one of Crete's most alluring towns. Its troubled history of occupation by Romans, Byzantines, Venetians, Genoese, Turks and Egyptians has left a rich architectural heritage, particularly in the old Venetian quarter around the harbour. Highlights of this charming and quaint district include the magnificent harbour, Naval Museum, Mosque of the Janissaries and the covered market that sells an excellent variety of local produce.

The visit to Chania will include a short walking tour of the town and lunch. The afternoon will be free for you to enjoy the town further if you wish.

Chania Botanical Gardens

A visit to Crete's botanical park to learn more about the plants, herbs, fruit and vegetables grown here.

The Basics

Climate – The weather in Greece at this time of year is likely to be pleasant, but evenings can be quite cool and there is the chance of the odd shower. Our best advice is to come prepared. Layers are useful as is a light rain jacket.

Time – GMT +3 hours (Summertime Apr-Oct); GMT + 2 (Standard time Nov-Mar). This means, summer or winter, Greece is 2 hours ahead of the UK

Language – Greek

Religion – Greek Orthodox

Currency – Euro. €1 = 100 cents. Notes are in denominations of €500, 200, 100, 50, 20, 10 and 5. Coins are in denominations of €2 and 1, and 50, 20, 10, 5, 2 and 1 cents.

Banks – Cashpoints compatible with international banking networks are located in all towns and cities, as well as airports and other spots. Those banks that still exchange foreign currencies into local money will always charge a transaction fee, so withdrawing money from an ATM usually represents the most logical means of obtaining euros other than bringing euros with you from the UK.

Banks in Crete are open Monday to Friday 8am – 2pm. ATM machines are available in Kissamos and can be accessed on foot from your accommodation. You can use a UK debit card, using the same pin number you use in the UK, to withdrawn cash. The instructions are in English. Just look for signs on ATM's for Delta or Cirrus.

Credit cards – Crete is very much a cash society, so credit cards are not widely accepted, however more places are accepting these nowadays but it is best to check at restaurants and shops that they accept credit cards, if you wish to pay by card. Varying amounts of commission can be charged for credit card payments and you may like to check these with your credit card supplier before travel.

Electricity – 220 volt, two-pin continental plug.

Drinking water – Tap water is safe to drink although you should check at the hotel if the bathroom water is safe to drink as it could be tank water rather than mains water. Bottled water is readily available to buy in the local shops and very reasonable priced.

Shopping - There are plenty of mini-markets scattered throughout Kissamos for any basic supplies you might need. The mini-markets are usually open from early in the morning until late in the evening. Cretan olive oil, olives and local honey are all excellent produce if you are interested in taking a little bit of Crete home with you. There are also excellent herbs and mountain tea. You may see people advertising honey on the side of the road or in Kafenions when you are out and about, this will usually be their own home produce and is often the best and most pure you can buy.

English newspapers – These can usually be found in various outlets in the town.

Telephones/mobiles – You should be able to use your mobile phone in Greece, depending on your operator and contract. If you are calling the UK from a mobile in Greece, you will need to prefix the number with the international dialling code 0044.

The guarantee of free mobile phone roaming throughout the EU, Iceland, Liechtenstein and Norway has ended. Check with your phone operator to find out about any roaming charges that might be applied after 1st January 2021. A new law means that you are protected from getting mobile data charges above £45 without you knowing. Once you reach £45, you need to opt in to spend more so that you can continue using the internet while you are abroad. Your phone operator will tell how you can do this.

Tipping –To keep our tours affordable, we do not increase the tour price by adding in tips. However, in the tourism industry, there is a certain level of expectation that, when receiving a good service, one does reward with a tip. Tour Managers, Representatives, Guides and Drivers appreciate a tip at the end of their involvement with the tour, but this is entirely at your discretion. We believe in allowing you to tip according to your level of satisfaction with their services.

General Health Advice

We suggest you take a good supply of your own individual medicines with you and always keep some in your hand luggage in case you get delayed or your luggage goes astray. General-purpose supplies for bites, stings, or scratches, and your usual medication for headaches, or stomach upsets are always recommended. Oral re-hydration sachets are excellent for topping up salt and glucose levels.

Insurance

We strongly recommend that you take out an appropriate travel insurance policy when you travel abroad.

To be covered under your Travel Insurance Policy, if you become ill, it is essential that you contact a local doctor and telephone the emergency number of your insurance company.
