Dining

The history of Malta is deeply rooted in its geographical location. An archipelago of seven islands in the middle of the Mediterranean, Malta stands at the crossroads of Europe, Africa and the Middle East and Maltese cuisine reflects this diversity, in a vibrant and enticing dining scene. There have been many influences on Maltese food as different nations have visited or invaded the island with the Italian influence probably the strongest. Ravioli and macaroni are popular but made in the Maltese way, with the ravioli stuffed with ricotta cheese and generally larger than the Italian variety and cooked to a softer texture. Signature food of the island tends to be rustic 'peasant' style cuisine, using vegetables in season, homemade cheeses, that emanate Mediterranean flavour and freshness. One of the famous meat dishes is bragioli, or beef olives, a rolled stuffed piece of meat cooked slowly. Rabbit is also extremely popular, and many Maltese families raise their own. Meals are large and served communally – the famous baked pasta pie timpana generally feeds a small army of people. A famous Maltese dip is bigilla, made from dried broad beans cooked and mashed with garlic, hot pepper and anchovies and eaten with crusty bread. Also made with crusty bread is the national snack of Malta, hobz biz-zejt, which translates as "bread with oil". Thick slices of bread are spread with the beloved sweetish tomato paste called kunserva and topped with capers, olives, garlic, black pepper and a drizzle of olive oil. Sometimes tuna or anchovies are added. Maltese cheese is simple and homemade – the soft fresh cheese called gbejniet is eaten during a meal or with fresh figs or grapes to finish. An aged version comes plain or rolled in fine black pepper and is eaten as a snack – both have a sweet slightly nutty taste.

Maltese sweets also show many of the influences of other countries. The Arab influence is seen in biscuits stuffed with a date mixture and the English bread and butter pudding is a more solid chocolate version in Malta, eaten hot or cold. Fruit served chilled is always part of a dessert spread – typically stone fruit, figs, melons, pears, grapes, citrus or pomegranates.

Maltese Beverages

Malta is famed for its locally made alcoholic and non-alcoholic drinks and have been producing wine and brewing beer for centuries with some of these achieving prestigious International Awards. Apart from wine and beer, Malta is also famous for its own liqueurs such as Lumicetta ta' Mari, a lemon infused liqueur, Bajtrija, made from the juicy part of prickly pears, and Hanini Digestiv, an after-dinner liqueur made with carobs, caramel and aromatic herbs.

Meals included in the holiday:

Breakfast daily and two dinners at the hotel.

Destination

Malta

The Republic of Malta is situated in the Mediterranean Sea, about 93 km south of Sicily and 288 km east of Tunisia. Archaeological records show that Malta's history dates to ancient times and is one of the world's oldest civilizations. Early in its history, Malta became an important trading settlement because of its central location in the Mediterranean, the Phoenicians, and later the Carthaginians, built forts on the island. In 218 BC, Malta became a part of the Roman Empire. The island remained as such until 533 AD when it became a part of the Byzantine Empire. In 870 AD, control of Malta passed to the Arabs, who remained on the island until 1090 when they were driven out by a band of Norman adventurers. This led to it becoming a part of Sicily for over 400 years, during which time it was sold to several feudal lords from lands that would eventually belong to Germany, France, and Spain. In 1530, the Knights of St John were granted rule over the Maltese islands and had control for over 250 years. In 1565 the Ottomans arrived but the Knights defeated them and held on, but the power of the Knights eventually declined with Malta surrendering to Napoleon in 1798. In 1800, with the support of the British, the French were forced out of the islands and in 1814 Malta became a part of the British Empire. On September 21 1964, Malta gained its independence and it officially became the Republic of Malta on December 13, 1974.

Places of interest included in the tour:

Valletta

Valletta, The Fortress City, Citta' Umilissima, "A city built by gentlemen for gentlemen". These are some of the names given to Malta's capital city: a living, working city and the administrative and commercial heart of Malta and her Islands.

Valletta is named after its founder, the respected Grand Master of the Order of St. John, Jean Parisot de la Valette. The magnificent fortress city grew on the arid rock of Mount Sceberras peninsula, which rises steeply from two deep harbours, Marsamxett and Grand Harbour. Started in 1566, Valletta with its impressive bastions, forts and cathedral, was completed in the astonishingly short time of 15 years. Valletta has many titles, all recalling its rich historical past. It is the "modern" city built by the Knights of St John; a masterpiece of the Baroque; a European Art City and a World Heritage City. Today, it is one of the most concentrated historic areas in the world. Busy by day with modern city life and yet it manages to retain a timeless atmosphere. The grid of narrow streets boasts some of Europe's finest art works, churches and palaces.

Fort St Elmo

At the very tip of the capital Valletta, you'll find the magnificent Fort St. Elmo. Built strategically around the peninsula, this very important fort has been standing guard over the Grand Harbour and Marsamxett Harbour for centuries.

It played an enormous role during the Great Siege of 1565 and has recently been meticulously restored to its former glory.

Inside the Fort, you will also find Malta's National War Museum, which gives you insight into thousands of years of warring history around the Maltese islands. The museum covers a period from the Bronze Age all the way up until the Second World War, which left some deep scars across the Maltese islands that are still visible today.

The Malta Experience

The Malta Experience is an audio-visual show that tells the dramatic story of the islands' 7000 year history. Educational, informative and entertaining, the show runs through the turbulent history of a small island nation that has overcome almost unimaginable odds to survive and prosper.

Situated in a purpose-built panoramic auditorium, the show chronicles Malta's unique history in just 45 minutes. A must-see audio-visual treat, The Malta Experience will enrich your understanding of the islands, its people and the places you'll see on your visit.

Malta's Knights of St John are famous for repelling an invasion and their military exploits abroad. But their origins were actually those of peace and caring for the sick. This noble past is revealed on a tour of “La Sacra Infermeria” (Holy Infirmary).

Fort St Angelo

Long before the arrival of the Knights of St. John, Birgu's Fort St Angelo was a medieval castle known as Castrum Maris. Sadly, due to a lack of documentation, little is known about the old castle, except the fact that it was built before 1240. The name Birgu, however, comes from il Borgo del Castello, or the City outside the Castle. Upon their arrival on the island in 1530, the Knights of St. John made modifications to Castrum Maris to serve its purpose as a fort, introducing bastions and sadly destroying many of its original ramparts. The Fort underwent further changes in the 1690s, and again after being heavily bombarded during World War II. With four of the Grandmasters buried in its chapels, the Fort is even said to be haunted by the mysterious 'Grey Lady', an inhabitant of the castle who was executed there!

<https://heritagemalta.mt/explore/fort-st-angelo/>

Inquisitor's Palace

The Inquisitor's Palace, situated in the heart of Birgu, is one of the few surviving palaces of its kind which, in the early modern period could be found all over Europe and South America. Many of these palaces simply succumbed to the ravages of time or were victims of the anti-reactionary power unleashed by the French Revolution. Fortunately, the Maltese Inquisitor's Palace, throughout its five centuries of history, always hosted high-ranking officials representing the main powers on the island, who therefore ensured its survival.

Medieval City of Mdina

Mdina, known as the 'silent city', was the former capital of Malta, dating from antiquity to the medieval period, and is one of Europe's finest examples of an ancient walled city, extraordinary in its mix of medieval and baroque architecture.

It hosts many hidden treasures amongst its narrow winding streets and is easy to navigate on foot as vehicles are prohibited.

Your Lecturer / Guide

Julian Humphrys - will be your guide/lecturer throughout the tour. After reading history at the University of Cambridge, Julian has had a long and impressive career relating to the themes and issues explored throughout this trip. He has worked at historical sites both in Britain and overseas and is now a trustee of the Battlefields Trust and a Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts. He has a very infectious enthusiasm for history and has published numerous books on castles and battles.

Julian will deliver two lectures during the tour:

“The Great Siege of Malta”

“Malta during WW2”

Tour Manager

Your Tour Manager will be on hand throughout the tour to ensure that everything operates according to plan. If you have any problems or questions, please see him/her immediately – it is often possible to resolve complaints or problems very quickly on the spot, and ensure you get the most out of your holiday.

Grading

This tour has been graded as Challenging: On your feet all day, uneven terrain (e.g. cobbles).

The Basics

Climate – The weather at this time of year is likely to be relatively pleasant, but evenings can be cool and there is the chance of the odd shower. Our best advice is to come prepared. Layers are useful as is a light rain jacket and small umbrella.

Time – GMT +2 hours (Summertime Apr-Oct); GMT + 1 (Standard time Nov-Mar). This means, summer or winter, Malta is always 1 hour ahead of the UK.

Language – Maltese and English are the official languages. Maltese is the national language.

Religion – Roman Catholic.

Currency – Euro. €1 = 100 cents. Notes are in denominations of €500, 200, 100, 50, 20, 10 and 5. Coins are in denominations of €2 and 1, and 50, 20, 10, 5, 2 and 1 cents.

Banks – Cashpoints compatible with international banking networks are located in all towns and cities, as well as airports and other spots. Those banks that still exchange foreign currencies into local money will always charge a transaction fee, so withdrawing money from an ATM usually represents the most logical means of obtaining euros other than bringing euros with you from the UK.

Credit cards – it is always best to check first in restaurants and shops that they accept credit cards if you wish to pay by card. Varying amounts of commission can be charged for credit card payments. You may like to check these with your credit card supplier before travel. Most hotels will accept payments by credit card.

Electricity – 230 volt, three-pin UK style plug.

Drinking water – Malta's tap water is desalinated sea water and properly processed so it is safe to drink, although the taste may be different from what you are used to. Local and imported bottled water is readily available to buy in the local shops.

Shopping - Shops are normally open from Monday to Saturday, mornings and evenings. Opening times are generally between 09.00 – 13.00 and 16.00 – 19.00hrs. However, in tourist areas, shops are usually open throughout the day

Mondays to Saturdays, from 09.00 till 19.00 hrs or later.

Telephones/mobiles – The guarantee of free mobile phone roaming throughout the EU, Iceland, Liechtenstein and Norway has ended. Check with your phone operator to find out about any roaming charges that might be applied after 1st January 2021. A new law means that you are protected from getting mobile data charges above £45 without you knowing. Once you reach £45, you need to opt in to spend more so that you can continue using the internet while you are abroad. Your phone operator will tell how you can do this.

Tipping – To keep our tours affordable, we do not increase the tour price by adding in tips. However, in the tourism industry, there is a certain level of expectation that, when receiving a good service, one awards with a tip. Tour Managers, Representatives, Guides and Drivers appreciate a tip at the end of their involvement with the tour, but this is entirely at your discretion. We believe in allowing you to tip according to your level of satisfaction with their services.

Walking shoes – as you are visiting lots of sites that can be uneven underfoot, we recommend that you take comfortable shoes which have good gripping soles such as trainers or walking shoes.

Health

General Health Advice

We suggest you take a good supply of your own individual medicines with you and always keep some in your hand luggage in case you get delayed or your luggage goes astray. General-purpose supplies for bites, stings, or scratches, and your usual medication for headaches, or stomach upsets are always recommended. Oral re-hydration sachets are excellent for topping up salt and glucose levels.

Visit the NHS Fit for Travel website for more generally information specific to the country you are visiting – www.fitfortravel.nhs.uk

Doctor/Dentist/Chemist

Please talk to your tour manager if you are feeling unwell and they will organise for you to see a doctor if necessary. There is normally a charge for calling out a doctor and also a charge to visit a doctor.

Keep any receipts for insurance claims.

Hospital

Your Tour Manager/hotel reception will assist if you need to visit a hospital during your stay.

Keep any receipts for insurance claims.

Inoculations

No compulsory vaccinations are required for travel in Malta.

Pharmacies

As in the rest of Europe, pharmacies in Malta are generally marked by a green cross. Pharmacies are usually well-stocked and have knowledgeable staff who will likely speak some English. Pharmacists will often be able to give advice and medicine for minor ailments. Pharmacies are usually open Monday to Saturday from 08:00 to 13:00 and from 15:30 to 19:00.

Insurance

We strongly recommend that you take out an appropriate travel insurance policy when you travel abroad.

To be covered under your Travel Insurance Policy, if you become ill, it is essential that you contact a local doctor and telephone the emergency number of your insurance company. You will NOT be covered for any claim unless this procedure is carried out. Your insurance company will then decide on the best course of medical attention.

Global Health Insurance Card (GHIC)

Before you travel, make sure you've got a valid European Health Insurance Card (EHIC) or UK Global Health Insurance Card (GHIC) or travel insurance with health cover.

You may not have access to free emergency medical treatment and could be charged for your healthcare if you do not have an EHIC or GHIC when visiting an EU country, or travel insurance with full healthcare cover when visiting Switzerland, Norway, Iceland or Liechtenstein. If you have an EHIC it will still be valid while it remains in date. Your European Health Insurance Card (EHIC) or Global Health Insurance Card (GHIC) will be valid if you are travelling to an EU country.
